These classes are ineligible for election under the alternate grading policy this semester:

A) any required courses, including:
   1) any course required for first-year students;
   2) Client Counseling or any course taken to satisfy the client counseling requirement;
   3) Professional Responsibility or Legal Ethics;
   4) any course designated as satisfying the writing requirement for graduation;
   5) any course designated as satisfying the seminar requirement for graduation;
   6) any course required of a transfer student to complete graduation requirements;
   7) any newly adopted required courses;

B) any clinic;

C) any course for which the professor has elected not to participate in the elective alternate grading policy for that course. These professors have opted out of participation in this policy for any course they teach (unless otherwise indicated) for the Spring of 2015:

- Administrative Law (Mank)
- Antitrust Law (Lassiter)
- Advanced Torts (Bettman)
- Civil Rights Litigation (Moore)
- Computer Crime Law (Behlen)
- Corporate Transactions (Mangan)
- Criminal Procedure II (Vazquez)
- Critical Race Theory (Houh)
- Energy Policy (Tomain)
- Family Law (Williams)
- Immigration Law (Zayas-Davis)
- Labor & Employment (O’Reilly)
- Legal Drafting (Mangan)
- Rep of Women (Kalsem)
- Sales (Houh)
- Witness Prep (Cruze)

D) any class over 3 credits.

Revised 2/2/2015