Event Title:
The Ohio Innocence Project and OIP-u Present: The Syndrome, with Special Guests Susan Goldsmith and Kathy Hyatt

Length:
2 hours (1.5 hour Screening followed by Q&A Session)

Date(s)/Location(s):

- March 28th, 2016—(Cincinnati, OH) Hosted by The Ohio Innocence Project
  - University of Cincinnati College of Law
  - College of Law Rm. 114
  - 5:30-7:30pm
- March 29th, 2016—(Cincinnati, OH) Hosted by OIP-u Xavier University Chapter
  - Xavier University
  - Cintas Center (room TBD)
  - 12-2pm
- March 29th, 2016—(Dayton, OH) Hosted by OIP-u University Of Dayton Chapter
  - University of Dayton
  - Miriam Hall Rm. 119
  - 5:30-7:30pm
- March 30th, 2016—(Columbus, OH) Hosted by OIP-u Ohio State University Chapter
  - Ohio State University
  - Saxbe Auditorium
  - 6-8pm
- March 31st, 2016—(Cleveland, OH) Hosted by OIP-u John Carroll University Chapter
  - John Carroll University
  - Dolan Rm. 202/203
  - 6-8pm
- April 1st, 2016—(Athens, OH) Hosted by OIP-u Ohio University Chapter
  - Ohio University
  - Schoonover Hall Rm. 145
  - 5-7pm

Event Type:
Documentary screening followed by Q&A with filmmaker and film subject.

Description:
What happens when widely held beliefs based on junk science lead to the convictions of innocent people? The Syndrome is an explosive documentary based on years of research by national award-winning investigative reporter Susan Goldsmith. It follows the crusade of a group of doctors, scientists, and legal scholars who have uncovered that Shaken Baby Syndrome (SBS)—a child abuse theory responsible for hundreds of prosecutions each year in the US—is not only scientifically invalid but does not actually even exist. The documentary uncovers the origins of the myth of Shaken Baby Syndrome, unflinchingly identifying those who have built careers and profited from ensuring that the false beliefs surrounding the diagnosis perpetuate. The film also documents the plight of those who have been falsely accused of child abuse stemming from SBS diagnoses, and shines a light on the men and women who have dedicated their lives to defending these individuals.

During the week of March 28-April 1st the Ohio Innocence Project and its affiliate OIP-u will be sponsoring screenings of The Syndrome in five cities on six college campuses across the state of Ohio. This an exclusive opportunity for students and members of the Ohio legal community to become educated on “Shaken Baby Syndrome” and its role in producing wrongful convictions.